

Patient Care Opportunity Reports

Track preventive health care opportunities

Your Patient Care Opportunity Review (PCOR) is generated monthly using claims data to help you quickly identify UnitedHealthcare Medicare® Advantage plan members with open preventive care opportunities. Addressing the open care opportunities can help you achieve positive health outcomes for your patients.

PCOR aligns with the following measures:

- Healthcare Effectiveness Data and Information Set (HEDIS®)
- Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) Star Ratings
- Medication adherence

View your PCOR to help get:

- Transparent access to a patient's health history and experiences with other care providers
- Pharmacy monitoring so you can track your patient's medication adherence in real time
- Practice-level data management and performance

Use PCOR data to help:

- Identify members who may be due for preventive screenings, immunizations or other health care services
- Objectively quantify each member's care needs by their UnitedHealthcare Care Score — the number of open care opportunities for that member
- Determine health system, group- and physician-level opportunities to help track progress and assess your overall strategy
- Get updated clinical information for your patients at the practice level
- View suspect medical conditions
- See your progress toward reaching state- and measure-specific adherence targets to meet HEDIS® measure and CMS Star Rating requirements

PCOR member roster

Members on your PCOR most commonly have chosen or been assigned to a primary care provider from your practice. These members can be identified with an “A” in the “Assigned or Rendered” field.

Due to variability of primary care provider assignment requirements and enrollment processes, we also may use claims history to determine the most likely physician to best address a member's care. These members can be identified with an “R” in the “Assigned or Rendered” field. A primary care provider is preferred within the Rendering logic, but a specialist acting as a primary care provider can also be chosen if no other is found in claims history.
